

It's so smart it does everything but plug itself in!

Sensotec's line of Identity Technology™ sensors deliver “plug and play” capabilities because they meet the new IEEE Standard 1451.4, so they are instantly recognizable to Standard-based instrumentation and software. Which means your instrumentation not only instantly identifies each sensor, but also automatically begins functioning in minutes.

And you can see everything you need to know about that particular sensor immediately...settings, calibration history, even location. Now you know critical data is accurate because Identity Technology statistics are automatically updated within the sensor each time it is calibrated. It even stores its own calibration certificate...an intelligent answer to paperwork.

It's time to graduate to a truly smart sensor! For more information, call Sensotec at 1-800-867-3891 or check-out www.sensotec.com/idtechnology.

Plug & Play

Sensotec's line of Identity Technology™ sensors meet IEEE Standard 1451.4 to deliver “plug and play” capability and more! Because our sensors are instantly recognizable to Standard-based instrumentation and software, you'll quickly be up and running without set-up hassles. And you will know everything you need to know about that individual sensor the moment you plug it in...settings, calibration history, even location. It's like having the ability to see inside each sensor!

Now you know critical data is accurate, because statistics, unique to that individual sensor, are automatically updated within the sensor each time it is calibrated. Identity Technology sensors even store their own calibration certificate. All of which makes you the Superman (or woman) of your system! For more information, call Sensotec at 1-800-867-3891 or check-out www.sensotec.com/idtechnology.
